Adams Co. "Love Injunction" Is Dissolved; School Teacher Must Pay $5 Heart Balm

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—(U. P.)—The Ohio Supreme court today dissolved the famous Adams county "love injunction."

For two years the injunction has restrained Miss Jessie L. Snedegar from speaking or communicating with Homer King. It was obtained in the lower courts by King's wife, who charged that Miss Snedegar, a pretty young school teacher, had stolen her husband's love.

In addition to the communication clause the injunction prevented Miss Snedegar from "doing or causing to be done any act which would prevent King giving his affections, companionship and support to his wife."

The Supreme court, on appeal by the school teacher, held that courts are without jurisdiction to enjoin one person from communicating with another, but affirmed the lower court's decision that Miss Snedegar should pay Mrs. King $5 heart balm.

Players Are Denied Re-Instatement

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(United Press)—Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan, expelled members of the New York Giants, were denied reinstatement after another hearing before Commissioner Landis last night.

The commissioner said that O'Connell and Dolan had asked him for another interview and that it had been granted. He did not make public any of the details of the conferences, but he said that the status of the players had not been changed.

Landis insisted that the investigation was not closed and said that he was still "open minded" about the case.

Stewart, C. S. Lewis, Harry Jordan and A. G. Frederick, alternates to the big meeting.

At the conclusion of the business session last night, the entertainment committee, composed of Martin Wendelken and Cecil Snyder, served refreshments.

Rev. Culberson Heads County Christian Association; Sciotoville Gets Meeting

Election of Rev. Gerald Culberson, pastor of First Christian church, as president of the County Association of Christian churches, selection of Sciotoville Christian church as the place for holding the 1925 annual meeting and interesting addresses by Rev. C. O. Hawley, of Dayton, featured the Tuesday evening, afternoon and evening sessions of the annual Christian church, New Boston.

In the election of officers John Secrest, of Sciotoville, was chosen vice president and Mrs. Thomas D. O'Neal, of New Boston, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Hawley, who was the principal speaker at the afternoon and evening sessions, is delivering addresses at all the county association meetings in southern Ohio. In the afternoon Rev. Hawley took for his theme "Religious Education."

Rev. Hawley discussed the purpose and necessity of such education among the workers in the church. The subject of his evening address was "The Church, the part of the church in the affairs of the world, and the general activities of the church as a center of community enterprises."

The women's work of the church was in charge of Mrs. Frank Peligo, of Athens, and in taking up the narration of missionary activities she vividly described the work being carried on at the present time in India.

The more than 150 who attended, representing every Christian church in the county, enjoyed a roast chicken dinner at the noon hour and supper at 6, the ladies of the Ohio Avenue Christian church serving.

Piketon To Have Real Lecture Course

PIKETON, October 8.—The Senior class of the Piketon high school, has completed arrangements for the Redpath Lyceum, for a four-number lecture course, the first number of which will be held at the local opera house, October 20.

The second number, which will be held November 12, will be a lecture, "The Supreme Test of Civilization," by J. A. Cooper. The third number, which will be held December 10, will be "The Renaissance and the World," by the Rev. Dr. MacGibbon and last number, which will be held March 24, 1925, will be the Columbus Centennial.

This course is made up of all good numbers and the Senior class is fortunate in securing such a course.

The first number, which will be held October 20, is the Young-Baldi Company, which will offer music and entertainment. They are decidedly out of the ordinary. One is an expert disciple of the art of juggling. The other is a piano-accompanied of unusual merit.

At the age of six years Young, an American boy, lived in Tokyo, among strange but clever people. He was attracted by the spectacular performances of the Japanese acrobats. He has so perfected himself in what is known as "Japanese Ancestral Juggling," that he is the peer of the most adroit natives. He has toured Asia, Africa, the South Seas and all of Europe, but he is most attached to native America.

Joseph Baldi, accordionist, is a native of Calosse, in northern Italy, near the French border. The instrument which he plays has 120 brass keys and 43 treble keys.

Young, "The American Orientalist," who is to appear with Joseph Baldi, accordionist, at this entertainment, toured for five years with Otis Skinner in the spectacular drama, "Kismet." More recently he has been featured on the Keith circuit and in exclusive entertainments in New York City.

In quick succession, this silent movie survive unfolds his silks, twirls his fans, and fills the air with baskets, swords and plates. His "Animated Tea Chest" mystery is one of the most astonishing exhibitions imaginable.

Joseph Baldi, who is to appear with Young, is one of the most noted exponents of the accordion. On his program such standard selections as "The Pique Dame" and "Poe and Paganini," overtures by Von Suppe, "The Tricest," overture, "Tranquille," overture composed by Pietro, "Rigollette Quartet," by Verdi, and the "Misserere," from "LL Trovatore."

The first accordion, produced less than 100 years ago, in Vienna, was a very simple instrument as compared with that used by Mr. Baldi. The accordion, which is to be seen here has 120 keys in the bass and 43 treble keys. It is one of the most complicated of all musical instruments.

If people only knew the facts about their skin

THE real cause of skin trouble—rashes, blackheads, excessive oiliness, etc.—is way down in the lower layers of the skin. It cannot be expected therefore that mere surface remedies can reach the disorder.

Thousands of physicians are daily prescribing Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. They know this gentle, yet effective treatment does sink deep, and will often soothe away in a few days the most stubborn rash as well as a trifling blemish. No home should be without these products—the soap for general toilet use—the ointment to check the first bit of skin eruption. At all druggists.

Says Charges Outgrowth of Pure Frame Up

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 8.—The story of the famous Blue Goose saloon at Barnabus, in Logan county, where, according to his own testimony yesterday, Tenna Hatfield sold moonshine whiskey over a four year period, and of the alleged participation of Don Chaffin, sheriff of Logan county in the business and its profits was unfolded by testimony introduced before a jury in the United States district court here yesterday afternoon.

The jury which was empaneled yesterday morning, and Judge George W. McClintic, of the southern district of West Virginia, are engaged in the trial of Don Chaffin on a conspiracy indictment, based on his alleged partnership with Hatfield in the illicit liquor business.

Pleads Not Guilty

Chaffin pleaded not guilty on Monday and his defense is based, according to the opening statement of the jury yesterday afternoon, on the grounds that the charges are the outgrowth of a pure frameup, the object of which, the attorney asserted, is to elect Tenna Hatfield, now the Republican nominee, sheriff of Logan county.

Jake Daubert In Shadows

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8.—Friends of Jacob E. Daubert, first baseman and captain of the Cincinnati Reds, were alarmed last night when word came from the hospital that the veteran infielder had failed to rally, as was expected, from a recent operation he underwent for appendicitis, and that his condition was serious.

Dr. H. H. Hines, club physician, who operated upon Daubert, said the patient's condition was due to his being in poor physical condition for several months before he entered the hospital. Daubert, while under the care of a physician, left his home in Pennsylvania to join the Reds on a barnstorming trip after the close of the season. Arriving at Cincinnati, he was taken ill and entered the hospital last Thursday.

Opposing Generals On Peace Platform

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—(By The A. P.)—Today's session of the World Peace Congress was thrilled by the presence on the speakers' platform of two generals who opposed each other at the front in the world war, but who now entertain the same ideas regarding peace.

Both generals told the congress that their personal experiences of war horrors made them convinced pacifists. The two "peaceful warriors" were General Verraux of France, commander of the sixth army division during the hostilities and now professor in a French military academy, and General von Schoenebach of Germany, who was active on the Russian front during the war and who is now head of the Republican Guard.

They told the congress that partial, gradual disarmament was impractical and declared that only complete general disarmament could save the world. "Wars today are a matter of technique and machinery," asserted General Verraux, "not of armies or military drill. Therefore a little army is quite as dangerous as a big one because it can handle technical war equipment quite as efficiently. The League of Nations scheme for partial, gradual disarmament is not going far enough. The scheme for neutral zones is impracticable technically. Future war with gas and germs will wipe out European civilization if permitted to break out."

In closing General Verraux urged a general strike against war, even including a strike of generals.

General Schoenebach accused officers of the old regime who still cling to the old militaristic ideas as being "either fools or cowards" and criticized the German government for not opposing the nationalists enough. "Nationalist secret organizations are nonsensical with their utter childish military plans, but they do us infinite harm abroad," said General Schoenebach. "I am opposed to an allied military commission because it is impractical and furnishes secret organizations with new excuses and arguments."

The German general conceded that the League of Nations may need a small police for temporary use until world disarmament is completed, but he insisted that in the interim all private manufacture of arms and munitions must be forbidden. "As the League of Nations recently outlawed all war," the speaker declared, "I support all movements for the refusal of military service."

BUDGET BEFORE HOUSE OF BISHOPS

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Preliminary meetings on the budget problems today cleared the way for a joint meeting tomorrow of the house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church and the members of the National Council, at which will be considered the church's program for the next three years.

The special session, marking the first meeting of the house of bishops with the National Council since the latter body's organization in 1910, will be formally inaugurated tomorrow with a special service in the cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Important problems in the foreign and domestic missionary fields of the church received the attention of the National Council today. The bishops discussed means of restoring a reserve fund of $705,000 created for emergency which has been expended in meeting obligations of the church.

John W. Davis Opposes Discrimination Based Upon Religion and Creed

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 8.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, brought the second day of his New York state tour to a close here last night, arriving from Utica, where he delivered an afternoon address in which he again defended his ideas and theories of government, as he said, they were represented by the major political parties and came out flatly in opposition to "discrimination based upon religion and creed."

The candidate introduced the subject of racial and religious difficulties with a reference to the society formed yesterday in Utica and sponsored by former Senator Elihu Root. He hoped that the organization, composed of Protestants and Catholics, would "blossom into a mighty tree over this nation" to teach "the doctrine of good will among men, which the angels sang at Bethlehem."

In developing his idea, Mr. Davis said he recently had taken the opportunity to find out what the expressions of great Americans had been and quoted two of the declarations he had found. The first said:

"We have abundant reason to rejoice that in this land the life and truth of reason has triumphed over the power of bigotry and superstition and that every person may here worship God according to the dictates of his own heart in this enlightened age, and in this land of equal liberty, it is our boast that a man's political tenets will not force the protection of the law nor deprive him of the right of attaining and holding the highest offices that are known in the United States."

Those were the words, added Mr. Davis, "of the greatest of Americans—George Washington."

The second statement was read by the candidate as follows:

"Our progress in degeneracy appears to be pretty rapid. As a nation we begin by declaring that 'all men are created equal.' We now practically read it 'All men are created equal except negroes.' When the Know Nothings get control, it will read: 'All men are created equal except foreigners and Catholics. When it comes to this I shall prefer to emigrate to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty—to Russia for instance, where despotism can be taken pure and without the base alloy of hypocrisy."

Amid the applause that followed the reading of this observation, Mr. Davis raised his voice to name its author—Abraham Lincoln—and continued:

"And in this land today any American should be ready to stand forth and sing 'yea' and 'amen' to those declarations."

Encouraging reports on the business outlook were presented to the president at the cabinet meeting this morning.

Secretary Davis said employment was becoming more plentiful in most sections of the country. Postmaster General New reported postal receipts in the industrial cities, particularly had increased about 11 per cent the past month.

Turning his attention to government business, almost exclusively today, Mr. Coolidge greeted the tariff commission prepared additional data in regard to its report favoring a cut in the sugar duty and submit figures comparing the costs of sugar production in Cuba and this country.

The president made it clear that in reaching a decision on the sugar duty

Dollar Sign High in Baseball, Johnson Charges; Landis Is Made Target of Ban's Attack

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 8.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, declared today that "the dollar sign has grown so in baseball that all sense of proportion has been lost."

Discussing the latest baseball scandal in which members of the New York Giants are alleged to have offered a bribe to an opposing player, Mr. Johnson asserted with emphasis that "baseball must clean up or close up."

"There's a whole lot of crookedness in the game," he continued, "and Judge Landis will not or cannot ferret it out. The public wants clean baseball, but it will have to be clean in every sense of the word if it is to survive."

"There has been trouble in Kansas City the last year. You have a fine, wholesome, clean management. But there is something wrong and I know it. The American League has a detective working on the matter three weeks this summer. He found the trouble did not lie in Kansas City, but in Omaha and Des Moines."

Mr. Johnson said that the American League stands ready to go to the bottom of things. "I am afraid we cannot hope for much help from the National League," he added. "As for Judge Landis, he is too close to the National League and the New York Giants."

Mr. Johnson also charged that baseball in California is "shot with crookedness."

TO RADIOCAST HUM OF GIANT SHIP'S MOTORS

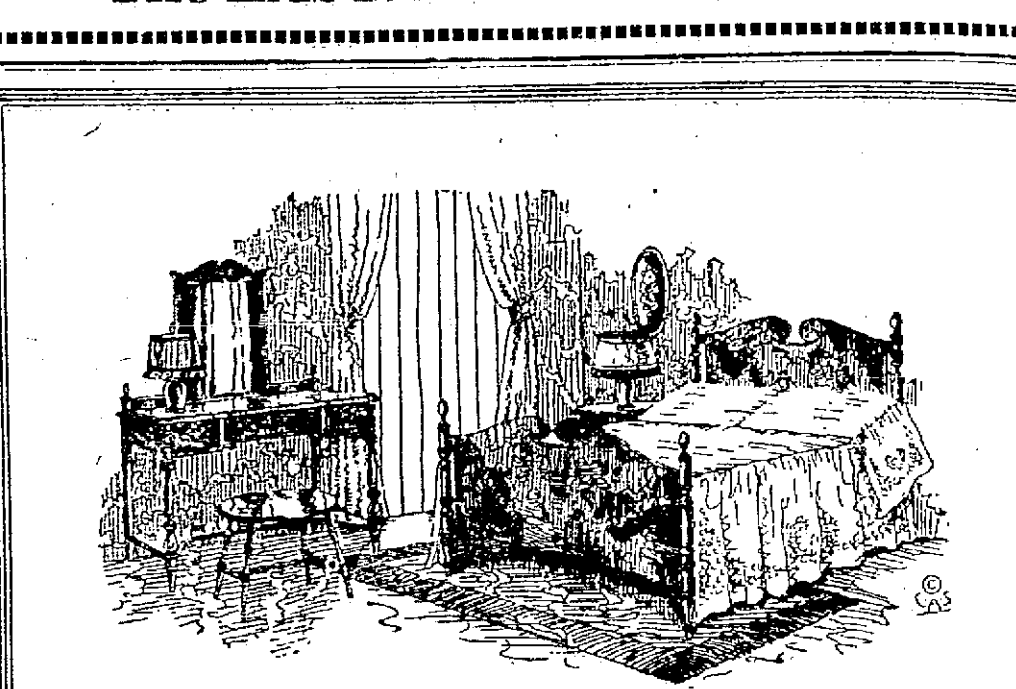

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 8.—When the American naval dirigible Shenandoah arrived over Ft. Worth in its trip to the Pacific Coast, it planned to radiocast the hum of its motors and other interesting things it was equipped today.

The program from the ship, to be sent on a small transmitter on a wavelength of 90 meters, will be picked up by station WBAP, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's station, and retransmitted on 470 meters.

With ROOSEVELT IN AFRICA

by W. Robert Foran
© 1924 N.E.A. Service Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Robert Foran, newspaper correspondent, accompanied the Theodore Roosevelt expedition into Africa in 1909. They arrived at Mombasa, the "gate" to British East Africa, and then made the long railroad journey to their first camp in the game-crowded Kapiti Plains.

After a wonderfully successful shooting trip in the South country, the expedition camps for more hunting at a farm called Saigai-Sai. After several other trips they invade the Gouna-Nyero elephant country. The Roosevelts are the guests of Lord Delamere at Nyoro and are given the royal reception at Entebbe. When they set off for a long, jungle-land journey through Uganda, Foran follows them two days afterward. Foran lies ill at his first camp on Christmas night, and Roosevelt sends back word that he wants Foran to come on ahead and consult Dr. Mearns.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Naturally, I was very glad to avail myself of this generous offer, and I pushed on in my rickshaw to their camp, leaving a native on the roadway to order my porters to follow me there as quickly as possible.

I arrived in their camp at noon and in time to join them at lunch. I was most warmly greeted by Colonel Roosevelt and the rest of the party, and was much touched by the cordial interest displayed by Roosevelt in regard to my illness.

He left me in the care of Mearns, who made a thorough examination. "I am in doubt as to what the swelling is," said Mearns, thoughtfully. He had a puzzled look in his eyes. "Looks to me like a case of beriberi, or else it's a rheumatism of the abdominal wall. One thing is certain, I'll have to operate; but it is better to wait until we get to Hoima. I've got no anesthetic in Anglo country, whose people have cattle with immense horns. No cattle in the world possess bigger horns than these sleek and healthy-looking cattle, with coats as glossy as satin. Colonel Roosevelt had been much interested in these cattle, and Mearns had made a number of fine pictorial records of them.

I shall always remember Kisinga camp for the reason that there I first tasted elephant trunk soup. It was one of the delicacies provided at dinner that night. It was very rich and palatable, being not unlike oxtail soup, but very much thicker and stronger in flavor.

Six spoonfuls of this soup was a regular meal. The Roosevelts always entered the country of the Nyoro people. The roads were very muddy and sticky, for there had been a deluge of rain in the night, but we made very good speed, notwithstanding.

The whole nature of the country changed here. We now climbed up by steep stages, through a regular elephant country to the top of a narrow ridge of rocky hills, from the summit of which we obtained our first distant view of the hills surrounding Albert Nyanza.

Kernit was the first to arrive in the new camp, and I was a good second in my rickshaw. When I halted at the camp, I found all the local Banyoro chiefs assembled, waiting at the entrance to the compound of the camp to do honor to Colonel Roosevelt. When he appeared in sight, headed by the American flag, a man beating a drum, and a small escort of the Uganda police, they all raised their hands above their heads in salutation and then clapped their hands vigorously—which later is their usual form of salutation to a distinguished stranger.

The native tom-toms beat a vigorous tattoo until such time as Colonel Roosevelt had actually taken his seat under the shady banyan; then he drums ceased, and the ceremony had concluded. Inside of the mess room, these natives had spread a white cloth under the grass thatch, and this made it very cool. As in all other camps, we found everything spotlessly clean.

The next night in camp we celebrated the dawn of a new year. We had marched at dawn, as usual, and had halted at midday at Yailo—57 miles from Kampala.

Only one more camp now intervened between us and Hoima, and there I hoped to obtain relief from the great pain after Mearns had operated upon me.

The Banyoro people are among the most curious races in the whole of equatorial Africa. They are generally spoken of as the "cow people," for they are powerful clansmen whose wealth and region and health is all intimately connected with the peaceful domestic cow.

They have many strange customs and beliefs. It is considered a degradation for Banyoro men to dig or till the soil, so milk and meat are their most staple forms of diet.

A few days after we had entered the Uganda country, we noticed a number of shrines in every direction. Our inquiries elicited the information that were ghost shrines. When sickness comes to the Banyoro people, they say that it is one of their enemies—the ghosts of their ancestors—who are attacking them, so they proceed to capture the evil spirit. Ghosts, they believe, like hot cooked meat. Therefore, meat is cooked in a large cooking pot near the dwelling hut of the sick man or woman. As soon as the pleasant aroma of the meat reaches the dwelling, the Banyoro believe that the evil spirit enters the cooking pot to enjoy the feast. As soon as the food is cooked and ready, they seal it up. The potted ghost is then taken away from the village and buried in the ground, the place of interment being marked by the erection of a ghost shrine.

Another quaint belief of the Banyoro is that once a man has been enthroned as king of that country, his person becomes sacred. His food is restricted to milk and beef, which is obtained from a special and sacred herd of cows which are always kept apart from the other herds.

The king of Nyoro never permits himself to grow old or his faculties to become impaired. When he thinks himself likely to become seriously ill, he calls together a council of state, arranges the affairs of the kingdom with the principal chiefs—without giving them any reason for thinking that he is about to die—and dismisses them to carry out his instructions.

This important business safely accomplished, the king returns to his royal palace and summons his chief queen—they have many queens in their harem—and orders her to bring him a cup of powerful native poison with the same grand manner as he might use in asking for a bottle of milk. Then he drinks the contents of the poison cup at a gulp, and in a few moments he is dead.

When the reigning monarch is comfortably dead by his own act, the chief queen calls to the palace one or two of the cabinet ministers. It is their duty to prepare the royal corpse for burial. For as long a period of time as possible the death of the king is kept secret.

Each day the royal milk and food are brought to the palace as custom ordains, and official callers are informed that the king has a slight cold in the head and can receive no one. In the meantime, the cabinet ministers and the council of state are making private arrangements to guard the king's corpse and to protect the sacred cattle during the wars that are inevitable when the king's death is known.

POLICE NEWS

Several violators of the dry laws were penalized by Judge Sprague in Municipal court, Tuesday.

R. S. Little, 32, of Houston Hollow, was assessed $800 and costs for possession of liquor because it was his second offense and a penalty of $500 and costs was imposed against Clarence McCoy, 21, on a similar charge. It was his second offense.

John Payne, 28, arrested near McDermott a week ago failed to appear to answer to a charge of possessing property designed for the manufacture of liquor, and his $500 bond was declared forfeited.

Marion Whitt, 29, pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and driving his automobile while intoxicated and sentence was deferred for one week.

Willie Charles, caught by the police with four half pints of "moon" in his possession, claimed that he had simply bought the liquor for workmen in a brick plant and on account of the physical condition of the defendant, the court passed the case indefinitely on condition that he leave the forbidden fluid alone in the future.

Robert Eddy, 22, negro, was adjudged guilty of possession and his case was passed for sentence.

E. Kelly pleaded not guilty to possession of liquor and he will be given a hearing Saturday.

BETTER LET JACK REMAIN ON STAGE

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Desiring to stage a fight between Jack Dempsey and Escudon Paillois, Spanish fighter, the proprietor of the bull ring at Bayonne recently got into touch with Dempsey's manager, Jack Kearns, says the Petit Parisien. The manager, according to the paper, accepted the offer on condition that Dempsey receive a fixed sum, the amount of which is not given, in addition to a percentage of the gate receipts.

The proprietor, the paper adds, now is reflecting, and apparently the conditions laid down by Kearns "give ample food for reflection."

Gilder Falls

While hoisting some steel girders to the top of the Anderson Bros. building, Tuesday, the beam to the derrick broke just as the steel was swung over the roof, on the south side of the building.

The steel came down with a crash and barely missed going over the edge and falling to the street. As it was it resulted in a balancing act to keep it from going over. The damage done to the roof was slight.

Student Faces Assault Charge

JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI, Oct. 8.—Belzonia high school football team, Fletcher Mills, a student at the Yazoo County Agricultural High School at Denton, and a member of the football team of that school, is at liberty today on $1,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing, on a charge of assault.

The victim of the alleged assault is Albert Hicks, a member of the Belzonia high school football team, whose neck was broken when he was tackled by Mills in a game at Belzonia, Friday.

The authorities charged that shortly before the game Mills told a friend that he would "get" Hicks at the first opportunity.

The injured boy is said to have only a bare chance of recovery.

Yom Kippur Is Observed

Sunset today marked the conclusion of the Jewish Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur. Jewish people, who observed the day by fasting for twenty-four hours and devoting the time to prayer and meditation, think of the day as an intensely religious one.

Yom Kippur is the second of the Fall holidays observed by the Jewish people. The next holiday is a day of rejoicing, for Monday, October 13, is the Feast of Tabernacles, the opening of the harvest season.

Royal Neighbors Entertain Delegation From Ironton

Three things, the presence of a large delegation of Ironton neighbors, a raggedy social and winter picnic, combined last night to make the weekly session of Delta Camp, Royal Neighbors of America one of the best held in recent months. Over 75 members attended the big social session held in K. of P. hall, Fourth and Washington streets.

At a brief business session plans were completed for the annual Fall-own masquerade dance to be held next Tuesday night in place of the regular business session of the camp. Mrs. Minnie Bullock, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Mrs. Minnie Turner and Mrs. Ruth Monk were named on a committee to arrange for the dance.

One applicant, Mrs. Margaret Call, was obligated.

The visit of the Lawrence county Camp members proved a most enjoyable affair, their coming at a most opportune time, when the local camp was having a big social program. The visiting delegation included Mrs. Lydia Caldwell, Mrs. Minnie Wagner, Mrs. Carrie Caldwell, Mrs. Clara Caldwell, Leroy Caldwell, Mrs. Bessie Blankenship, Miss Theresa Jenkins, Miss Georgia Jenkins, Miss Anna Harris, Mrs. Maud Rice, Mrs. O. W. Orchie, Kenneth Jenkins, and Mrs. Pearl Justice.

At the raggedy social and dance a prize was offered to the one wearing the "worst" costume. Mrs. Hattie Green won the prize. A winter picnic with the table cloth spread on the floor followed the dance.

Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood-cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells—the spark that re-ignites your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Much Interest In Race At Latonia

LATONIA, Ky., October 8.—Contingents of candidates for the third international special race having progressed to the intensive stage, Trainer Eugene Leigh announced that he would send his French champion Epinard, over the full mile and a quarter distant at Latonia today.

Much interest centers in this trial as some horsemen have been inclined to doubt the European candidate's ability to negotiate such a testing distance in a manner indicating that he would prove a match for the many study "routers" he will be pitted against on Saturday.

NERVOUS & HALF-SICK WOMEN

Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

These Three Letters Prove It

Lowell, Mass.—"I am sending you a few lines to let you know what good your medicine has done for me. I want you to let every one know that it has helped me in nervous troubles. I have four children and you know there is a lot to do where children are. They would come in from school and they would start telling me about their little troubles but I could not stand it. I had to send them away. I could not even walk on the street alone I was so nervous. I found one of your books and read it and then I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got it and had taken one bottle when I saw a change in myself. I was surprised. The children can talk all they want to now and it does not bother me. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Joseph Lemere, 34 South Street, Lowell, Mass.

Felt Like A New Woman
Springfield, Missouri.—"For four or five months I was run-down, nervous, my back ached and I did not feel like doing a thing. Sometimes my legs ached and felt like they would break and I had a hurting in my sides. I had been reading in the newspapers the letters of other women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the advertising of it appealed to me so I bought some and saw results in almost no time. I had hardly been able to do my own work and after taking the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I recommend it to my friends who have troubles like I did, and hope they will find the same results."—Mrs. M. CARPENTER, 607 W. Chase Street, Springfield, Missouri.

40 Years Old, Feels Like 20
Hagerstown, Md.—"I was very bad off with backache, a bearing-down feeling in my body and a pain in my left side. I could not be on my feet at times and once I was so bad I walked bent over to one side for three weeks. My sister read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me a bottle. I got so much relief that I took more until I was well. I am 40 years old and feel like 20. I am sure this medicine will help all women."—Mrs. MARY E. SANDY, 436 W. Franklin Street, Hagerstown, Md.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you ever benefited from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. All druggists are having increased sales of this medicine.

E. H. SHAW DROPS DEAD IN WASHINGTON

Edward H. Shaw, 54, recognized as one of the really big men in railroad circles in the United States and who was well known in Portsmouth as his railroad career virtually had its inception here, dropped dead at his home in Washington, D. C., Tuesday night. Physicians who were summoned failed in their efforts to schedule the spark of life and attributed his death to heart trouble. Mr. Shaw was one of the vice-presidents of the Southern Railway company and for several years had his offices in the Capital City.

While he had not been in the best of health for several years he was able to visit his offices daily and personally directed the affairs of his office. He was admitted several times to the hospital and took his medicine, but it was not in his nature to be a helpless patient and for years was at his desk at an early hour each morning. Of late he had lost considerable weight and remarked that he was feeling better than ever and believed that ultimately he would regain his old-time health.

A message conveying the news of the sudden passing away of Mr. Shaw was received by Howard Newman of Second street. He received it from Russell Newman of Charleston, W. Va. Howard Newman stated that he was awaiting further word as to when the last rites would be held.

It was in Portsmouth many years ago that Mr. Shaw became the freight agent of the old C. P. & V. line, which ultimately was acquired by the N. & W. and merged with their system. Mr. Shaw thoroughly understood the freight moving business and his rise in the railroad was not a surprise, as he was thorough in everything he did, was systematic, a splendid organizer and an indefatigable worker. After leaving Portsmouth he became identified with the Southern Railway company and step by step he was promoted by this great railway system until he was elevated to one of the vice-presidents of the road, with headquarters in Washington. Prior to being sent to Washington, Mr. Shaw was located in Charleston, S. C., Greensboro, S. C., and Atlanta, Ga. He possessed many friends in Portsmouth and was always delighted to mingle with them on his numerous visits here. "Ed" Shaw, as he was familiarly known, was congenial and companionable at all times, and news of his passing will occasion general regret here. He was warm-hearted, generous and had the happy faculty of making friends readily.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Fannie Newman Shaw, he leaves three children: George, Oscar and Helen. Mrs. Shaw is a daughter of the late Mr. Clay Newman, who passed away in this city in 1916, and of Attorney George O. Newman, who at present is visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Judge Mrs. Shaw, near W. Newman, of Columbus.

Entertained Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeg, 921 Eighth street, has as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. O. Woods and children, Dale and Helen, of Scottdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Denver Hughes, of Vanceburg.

Frustrate Escape Plot In Ohio Pen

COLUMBUS, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Efforts of prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary to gain their freedom by digging a tunnel from the prison point about the outside, was frustrated here today when Warden Thomas and guards discovered Henry Porter, of Cleveland, serving a term for robbery, at work. The tunnel had been dug for a distance of ten feet into the prison yard.

Warden Thomas said the digging had been going on for several weeks and that the plot was known by the guards several days ago, but that they allowed the work to go on in order to determine the number of convicts in the escape plot.

Crude tools made from articles taken from the automobile tag shop were used to dig the tunnel. The dirt was carried away by the men in their overalls and boxes.

Eight others besides Porter were implicated, Warden Thomas said. The majority of them were serving sentences for robbery ranging from ten years up. Porter was admitted to the penitentiary in December, 1913, and was sentenced to from ten to 25 years.

The men implicated have been placed in solitary confinement.

One of the men involved in the plot to escape, it is charged, is Rufus Deeds, sent up from Lawrence county in December, 1923, for robbery. Deeds was sentenced to from 10 to 25 years.

Others connected with the plot are: Melvin Harris, colored, serving one to 15 years for robbery from Hamilton county, who has been "in" since April, 1922; George Watson, Mahoning county, doing 10 to 25 years for robbery, admitted May, 1924; Emanuel Felver, Allen county, 10 to 25 years for robbery, admitted May, 1924; John Lampkin, 25-year term from Hamilton county for robbery, admitted September, 1922; William Bacon, Mahoning county, doing 20 to 25 years for robbery, admitted February, 1924; James Houston, colored, doing 10 to 25 years from Hamilton county for robbery and admitted May 9, 1924; and Narcissa N. Goetz, doing 10 to 25 years for robbery from Wood county.

Slump

diate investigation of the alleged slush fund induced him to subject Chairman Butler of the Republican National Committee, W. T. Mellon, Mr. Stotesbury, Joseph Grundy, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and others who he declared in his Scranton address he had reason to believe had a hand in the effort to raise a slush fund of $50,000,000 of $4,000,000.

"It is vital that the American people know before election day, exactly what the money interests are doing to influence their decision at the polls," said Senator LaFollette. "I intend to see that they have this information."

"We have just begun to fight," Wall Street shall not buy this election."

LaFollette Scores Slump (By FRAZER EDWARDS) (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEWARK, N. J., October 8.—(By the United Press)—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Independent candidate, invaded New Jersey in fighting form today ready to continue his biting criticism of the administration and his Republican adversaries whom he charges with raising a "huge corruption fund" in a "desperate attempt to buy the election."

LaFollette fired the first of the big guns of his campaign in Scranton, Pa. last night with his corruption charge, alleging the Republicans are attempting to raise from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000. The candidate announced he had sent a telegram to Senator Borah, of Idaho, who made the first speech of his campaign in Idaho Falls last night, suggesting the senate committee on campaign expenditures meet immediately to investigate "plans of the Republican National Committee to buy the election."

LaFollette speaks here tonight and may elaborate his charges.

The Independent candidates based his request for calling of a meeting of the campaign expenditures committee on a letter of J. R. Grundy, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Republican National Committee and on newspaper dispatches, declaring the Republicans have started a campaign to raise "an enormous slush fund" to be expended in doubtful states.

The candidate also attacked C. Bascom Sloop, president Coolidge's secretary, describing him as "one of the chief political fat fryers of the Republican party" and one of its "chief agents in the sale of postoffice."

"In all the history of the United States," LaFollette said, "no man with such a record as that of Sloop has ever been selected by a president to act as his confidential advisor and official representative."

Sloop, he said, "is the man who is likely to be selected to handle this huge slush fund to buy the election for Calvin Coolidge."

"The White House, the official home of all the great presidents of the United States, the symbol of the nation's government, is to be drawn into this huge conspiracy to corrupt the nation."

The candidate slept late in his car here today and his plans for the day were uncertain.

BORAH Wants To See Evidence

IDAHO FALLS, IDAHO, October 8.—(By the United Press)—Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, is willing to call together the senate campaign expenditures committee of which he is the head at any time when he is shown sufficient cause, he declared here today, commenting on a telegram from Senator LaFollette, Independent candidate for president.

LaFollette's telegram charged the Republican committee with gathering a "slush fund" amounting to millions "to buy" the November election.

McPherson. He said that when they passed over Atlanta, the ship was about 2,200 feet up and was traveling about 45 knots, which speed it would keep up indefinitely.

"I will not attempt to give any schedules," Lieutenant Palmer said, "but will let the press figure out when we are due at certain points."

Lieutenant Palmer said that there were no press dispatches, the correspondent, Junius B. Wood, being too ambitious yesterday "and worked himself into sending dispatches. He is now getting a much needed rest."

Lieutenant Palmer said that the ship had been having trouble all night with her radio transmitting outfit and for that reason had been unable to establish communication with land. Use of the continuous wave, he said, has been the seriously dispensed with until it could not be repaired. In the meantime, he said, he would use the radiophone.

all the Republican voters and that his outspoken denunciation of the Republican vice presidential nominee will cost him some regular votes he might otherwise have. Several conservative Republicans are openly saying that they intend to vote for Dan Stech, the Democratic candidate for United States Senator. If Mr. Brewer had kept out of the Independent Republican column, undoubtedly Senator Brookhart would have had his lead in the state cut down.

The Republicans who favor Brookhart, on the other hand, are not all hostile to President Coolidge. It all depends on how many Republicans can be carried along by Brookhart and LaFollette.

Still the Republican majority in this state is so big that the party would have to be split fifty-fifty to make Iowa for LaFollette, though a coalition of Democrats and LaFollette votes might be sufficient to squeeze the state for the third party candidate.

Protest Vote to Be Large

Most of the well-informed men in this end of the state concede that it is a defensive struggle with the contest so close as to make the outcome largely a matter of conjecture. For one thing the reaction to the Brookhart attack on Coolidge has not fully developed. The next two weeks may see a distinct cleavage between Brookhart and LaFollette on one side and Coolidge and Stech on the other.

John W. Davis' opportunities to carry Iowa lie entirely in a possible change of sentiment in the last weeks of the campaign. Should it become apparent that LaFollette is going to carry Iowa, many Republicans may turn their votes to Davis. Almost anything might happen in Iowa.

South Dakota is another close state. The Democrats have an excellent chance there to elect as United States Senator, U. G. Cherry. Cherry, four of them are for Coolidge and three are non-partisan. In a state which has eight candidates for United States senator, any single man who can keep a nucleus together has the best chance to win. That's why Cherry's chances are excellent. The Democratic vote is relatively small, however, and before the campaign Governor McMaster, a radical who is supporting President Coolidge more or less perfunctorily may capture the lead.

There is another reason why South Dakota is unique. The third party has had a long start there. As in Minnesota a farmer-labor party has sprung up. But the Democrats who were forced into third place by the situation in 1920 moved back into second place in 1922, when the Republicans polled about 75,000, the Democrats 55,000 and the third party 40,000 votes. LaFollette seems to be assured of a consolidated support notwithstanding the distributed effort of the seven senatorial candidates.

The race is between LaFollette and Coolidge in South Dakota with the situation so arranged on account of the local interests that Mr. Coolidge has a fairly good chance of carrying the electoral vote.

Baker Raises Real Dahlias

The prize for raising the finest dahlias of the season, if the Times news room were called to judge, would go to W. L. Baker, whose dahlia farm is located on the Buena Vista place about four miles west of the city. Mr. Baker sent a choice collection of blossoms in to the office this week, where they commanded universal admiration. Several blooms of the giant cactus variety were particularly fine, and the collection of all was extremely pure, a difficult state to achieve, as dahlia growers know.

Duke Ridgely in the Huntington Herald-Dispatch had the following in commenting on the Blair-Perdue scrap:

"The grudge fight between Jimmy Perdue and 'Nig' Blair was so bitter that the two boys ALMOST came to blows."

"The Perdue-Blair bout was stepped by the law in Huntington because it was advertised as a fight. Somebody must have been kidding."

Jimmy and "Nig" may make up some day, but you'll never see one putting on a new tire for the other.

Gives Up

Chicago after the elopement she wrote her husband a letter which was introduced as evidence in which she said:

"I wanted to show you if possible that my going away with—"

was necessary, not because it meant a consummation of it, but because it was between us, but because it offered us a way out, the only way for an unbridled mad passion by years of tearing down process.

"That public scandal should be avoided for your sake, I can quite realize, but—"

and I can take all of the blame that attaches to our decision to live together and therefore no secrecy was even contemplated when we left."

Other letters portrayed her hope that freedom would bring ease of mind and reassured her love for the other man. The last of the letters told how hopeless would be the husband's plea for an interview in the hope of ending the situation. Attorneys for Dr. Hays Quest, who left last night for Pittsburgh, expressed chagrin that the case had become public and declared the husband had done "a noble thing in giving up his wife—" who after all cannot be blamed for following the dictates of her heart."

Railroad Advertising

Acquaintance of the public by the railroads with the fundamental idea that adequate transportation service is a prime necessity for the economic welfare of all industry and for the general welfare of the country, is responsible for the "railroad planks" in the 1924 platforms of the two great parties.

The Republican platform declares:

"The people demand and are entitled to have prompt and efficient transportation at the lowest rates consistent with good service and a reasonable return upon the value of the property devoted to public service."

The Democratic platform declares:

"The sponsors of the Esch-Cummins Transportation Act of 1920, at the time of its presentation to Congress, stated that it had for its purpose the reduction of the cost of transportation, the improvement of service, the bettering of labor conditions, the promotion of feasible co-operation between employer and employee and at the same time the assurance of a fair and just return to the railroads on their investment."

"We are in accord with this announced purpose."

Indeed, the railroads, have been enabled to render more adequate service by telling the public the truth about transportation, and the public has benefited accordingly. In the face of this situation the following editorial, from the Indiana Farmer's Guide, published at Huntington, Ind., is of more than ordinary interest:

"One of the most senseless pieces of proposed legislation that has come to the notice is that being prepared by Senator Pittman of Nevada, in which he proposes that railroads be prohibited from charging public relations advertising to operating expenses. Under this proposed law, railroads would be permitted to advertise freight and passenger service, but would not be allowed to buy space in farm or other papers for the purpose of creating good will. The railroads have been hampered on every hand, but this is about the bottom. Whatever their shortcomings, they certainly should have the right to tell their side of the story, especially when they are willing to pay for the space they use the same as any other business concern."

BISHOP SAYS HE

HAS NOT DENIED

EXISTENCE OF CHRIST

CLEVELAND, O., October 8.—(By the United Press.)—Declaring that he has not denied the existence of God and Jesus of Nazareth, Bishop William Montgomery Brown today appeared from the heresy verdict returned by a trial court of bishops here last spring.

In a letter to 125 bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, Bishop Brown asked that they veto the heresy verdict of the court. All the bishops must approve the finding before sentence can be passed.

"I was condemned on the ground that I had denied the existence of God and Jesus of Nazareth and that, therefore, I was not merely an atheist, but that I denied Christianity from any connection with Jesus," Bishop Brown's letter declared.

"Both of these chief findings were absolutely without warrant. There is no such statement in any of my writings."

Promise Better Radio Programs
And Better Reception

(BY CHARLES McCABE)
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Promising better programs and better reception with simpler radio sets, representatives of the larger broadcasting concerns today sought endorsement of the third national radio conference for removal of the federal one-kilowatt power restriction on broadcasting stations.

In the sessions of the special sub-committee appointed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to consider power limitations there was bitter strife between inventors, manufacturers and large and small broadcasters, who lined up sharply for an against the high power broadcasting system proposed by the Radio Corporation of America.

High-power plants are more efficient, cover more territory at less cost and would provide for better programs than the small stations, those in favor of abolishing the low power restriction argue. They are answered by the small broadcasters who charge that powerful stations bring "monopoly, create interference and would tend to cut down entertainment."

The Department of Commerce anticipating the eventual demand for high power broadcasting units, has experimented with the type of equipment and found:

1.—The greater the transmitting power, the simpler the receiving set required.

2.—If super power stations are kept at a proper distance from centers of population, they do not interfere with present radio activities.

3.—The greater the power of the plant, the lower the cost to cover a territory equivalent to that reached by a number of smaller stations.

Son of "America's Driest Dry"
Drunk for Year and a Half

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—(U. P.)—The son of "America's driest dry" has been drunk for a year and a half, Mrs. Alfred J. Kvale, formerly the Fair Billie Stanfield of Ziegfeld Follies fame, charged in a suit for separation and maintenance on file here today.

Young Kvale, who plays a saxophone at a cabaret, is the son of Rev. O. J. Kvale, elected to Congress from Minnesota on his claim that he was "drier than Volstead," the father of America's dry law.

Not only has Kvale been drunk for a year and a half "ever since our wedding," but he becomes abusive when severely intoxicated, the former Follies girl charged.

Judge Joseph Sabath, in whose court the complaint was filed issued an order restraining young Kvale from "bothering" his wife and also preventing him from leaving the state.

Charges and Counter Charges
By Demmies and G. O. P.

COLUMBUS, O., October 8.—(By the United Press.)—Democratic state lawmakers today called upon Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for governor, to answer a number of questions "for the information of the voters."

Among the principal questions were: "If Mr. Davis is so interested in economy why can't he show that he vetoed a single salary increase?"

"Why was his office expense so much greater than Governor Donahay's?"

"Why doesn't Mr. Davis explain why coal purchased for the state in his administration cost $232,000 more than did a greater amount purchased under Donahay?"

COLUMBUS, O., October 8.—(By the United Press.)—"Mismanagement" was the keynote of the charges hurled today at the administration of Governor Donahay, Democratic candidate for reelection, by Clarence J. Neal, Republican state campaign manager.

"The people of Ohio are paying the price of glaring incompetence," the statement said.

Ohio voters, the statement continues, are "confronted with the choice of stopping this reign of incompetency by re-electing Mr. Donahay to private life or endorsing another period of wasteful spending."

The statement goes on to say that the alleged "mismanagement" can be remedied by returning Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate, to the governor's office.

It Never Fails to Satisfy.

Youth's Dream of Seeing Wide, Wide World

Picked Up in St. Bernard, Ohio, on Charge of Stealing an Automobile

Is Rudely Shattered By a Local Patrolman

When Officer Charles Bard left yesterday for St. Bernard, O., to bring back Taylor Keys and Herschel Phillips, who were arrested there for the local authorities on a charge of stealing a Chevrolet touring car owned by Ed. Bowley, of 5850 Perry avenue, Solonville, he expected to return with two rough looking characters who were experienced in the art of stealing. Truth is, that Officer Bard fully equipped himself with handcuffs and the like. When he arrived at St. Bernard he found that his prisoners were 11 and 12 year old boys, who had run away from their home in Ironton and ridden here on a freight. They stole the car here and were finally picked up in St. Bernard.

They told a Times reporter this morning that they left their home in Ironton Saturday morning for Portsmouth. The older boy knows how to run a Chevrolet car and when they stole the car they intended to see the wide, wide world.

Herschel Phillips, the younger of the two, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips, of 101 Spring street, Ironton, while the other boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keys, of 106 Spring street. Mr. Keys is a well known Ironton race horse owner. The youths have been turned over to probate court.

BIRTHS

A son was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kelley of Front street. Mr. Kelley is a steelworker.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Diggs of Cherry street, Solonville, announce the birth of an eight pound son at their home Monday afternoon. The little lad has been named Robert Ulysses Diggs.

Satisfied With Rate

CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct. 8.—An informal poll of a majority of city councilmen today revealed that a majority of them saw no use in opposing the proposed change in natural gas rates and that they were surprised it was not more excessive.

Investigation further revealed that the 75 cent monthly service charge is opposed by one member of council, while a fourth had not had time to consider the proposal.

To Install Officers

The Catholic Order of Foresters will hold a meeting this evening in their hall on Gallia street. The installation of officers will be held at this time and a full attendance is urged. A social hour will follow.

OBITUARY

John W. McKeown
WEST UNION, Oct. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brodt returned Saturday from Springfield, Ohio, where they had been called to attend the funeral of Mrs. Brodt's brother, John W. McKeown, who was a former Adams county resident.

John W. McKeown, son of John and Eliza McKeown, was born in Adams county, December 28, 1854, and died at Fort Collins, Colorado, September 25. He was a teacher for several years in the West Union and Manchester schools. He was appointed school examiner by Judge I. N. Telle, and served in that capacity until called to Warren county to teach. After four years in the schools of that county, he gave up teaching, and entered the law school at Cincinnati, and after graduating he located at Dayton in the practice of law. He was elected to the office of the Justice of the Peace in that city for two terms.

He was married to Elizabeth Mitchell, of Springfield, Ohio, and to this union two sons were born: Stewart and Bruce. Stewart served in the aviation corps during the World war and was shot down by the Germans and was a prisoner for several months. While at Dayton his wife's health failed and upon the advice of her physician, he moved to Colorado.

He leaves a wife, two sons, Stewart, of New York City; Bruce, a teacher in the State College at Fort Collins; three sisters, Mary Hoagland, of Cleveland; Carrie Hauge, of West Salem; and Sadie Brodt, of West Union, and a brother, Thomas McKeown, of Arkansas.

Mrs. Matilda Collins
PEEBLES, OHIO, October 8.—Mrs. Matilda Collins, wife of James Collins, passed away Friday morning at her home, south of town after a few days' illness. Mrs. Collins whose maiden name was Kilpatrick was born in Jacksonsville, 80 years ago and all her life was spent in that neighborhood. She was married sixty years ago to James Collins and into their care were given six children, three having preceded the mother to the better world. She united with the M. E. church at the age of 18 and was always present at the church services when health would permit. She was a kind neighbor and will be greatly missed not only by the family but by all of her friends and neighbors. She leaves besides her next companion, one son, William Collins and two daughters, Mrs. Mae Seaman and Mrs. George Lloyd besides a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Jacksonsville church conducted by Revs. Robbins and Light. Burial in Jacksonsville cemetery.

Mrs. Mollie Canaway.

Alex Kuczik, 19-year-old Akron, O. youth, under death sentence for the murder of his cousin, Elizabeth Nagy, is biding his time to escape the electric chair on Judge Caverly's decision in the Leopold-Loeb case. Governor A. V. Donahey, however, refuses to commute his sentence. He is granting a stay of execution, though, to permit an appeal to the state supreme court.

Oberlin Plays O. U. Saturday

ATHENS, Oct. 8.—The words of "Oberlin must pay" are on the lips of the backers of the Ohio "U" team which lost a hard fought game to Wittenberg last Saturday, by the small margin of 3 to 0.

One thing is certain about the game with Oberlin, in Athens, this Saturday, and that is, the Congregationalists will be pitted against a much "tougher" foe in Ohio University than Oberlin expected at the beginning of the season.

Coach Eden has built an eleven man team from sophomores who were inexperienced but has formed a team that even baffled the strong Wittenberg eleven, last Saturday, with their defensive antics.

Woman Uses Revolver; Thief Beats It

After firing three revolver shots to frighten away a prowler she heard in an adjoining room, Mrs. John Shingle, 8559 Grace street, New Boston, was afraid to go into the room and investigate for fear that she had shot and killed someone. To summon help she started screaming and within a few minutes several neighbors had responded to her "alarm." A search of the house failed to produce any trace of the unwelcome caller or callers who no doubt bent a hasty retreat when the woman snapped the trigger of her revolver three times.

Entrance was gained to the house through a door. A glass in the door was broken and it was easy for anyone to reach in and unlock the door.

Mrs. Shingle was home alone and when she heard a noise in the room next to her bedroom she lost no time in grabbing the revolver and firing. Not a thing was found missing and the only damage was where the lead-on pellets ploughed into the plaster. New Boston officers searched the neighborhood but failed to locate any suspicious characters.

WILL BUILD HOTEL IN MIAMI

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—E. D. Sullivan, formerly a member of the Warner-Sullivan Hotel Co., operating the Rot-Eddy and Norwich hotels in Columbus, and the Curtis House in Mt. Vernon, will leave Columbus in a few days for Miami, Fla., where he has organized a hotel company to build and operate a 15-story family apartment hotel.

Sullivan returned from Florida to his home, 1577 West First Avenue, early this week to complete a few arrangements connected with the financing of the company and to make his family ready to move to Florida. He said that the capital in the new project was chiefly Miami money, but that he would be in control. Mr. Sullivan formerly operated the Hartman Hotel here, previous to its being taken over by the state as an office building. Close to 20 years ago he started his hotel career in the Hartman as a bellboy, and has since been continuously in the hotel business, having managed many houses in different cities.

Equipment

Installed

Virgil Fowler has completed the installation of considerable machinery and equipment in the Kodak developing department of his laboratory on Second street. A new system of stone developing tanks were installed and the combined weight of the new equipment made it necessary to greatly strengthen the floor in that section of the building where they are located. The new equipment is placed in the recently erected two story addition to the laboratory.

Frost Prevailed
Year Ago Today

With wraps "non grata" today, the sun shining too warmly to suit those who want to look for winter clothes and fail to get any inspiration in this sort of weather, it came as a distinct shock to have the weather observer report that the temperature a year ago today was 34 degrees. But two degrees above freezing, and probably a heavy frost covered Seneca county.

O. W. U. Players
Badly Crippled

DELAWARE, October 8.—Developing an entirely new varsity backfield and reconditioning the badly battered squad which he brought back from its grueling contest with the University of Detroit, is occupying Coach George Gauthier, of Ohio Wesleyan this week as he prepares the Red and Black team for their opening Ohio Northern at Ada Saturday.

Halfback Pearce is on crutches, Fullback Turner walks with a cane and Quarterback Winters and Fullback Essex also are crippled. Jackie Shouffer, halfback, is the only experienced man who promises to be in condition to meet Ohio Northern. The rest of the backfield must be composed of recruits.

Gauthier is going easy with his damaged veterans this week but is working the team hard on new plays.

"Spook" Room Can't Scare "Ma"

THE "SPOOK" ROOM IN THE EXECUTIVE MANSION AT AUSTIN

By NEA Service
AUSTIN, Tex.—Says grim rumor of the Texas plains there's a ghost in the executive mansion here that's biding its time till Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson is installed in the governor's chair.

Treading by night in the silent chambers of the cold gray building this shade from another world walks and lurks in passageways to strike when the moment comes. "This a woman, runs the prevailing story, that this wraith must have, for only upon a woman can it wreak its diabolical madness. For in life 'twas a woman that caused the ghost—years ago the promising son of a former governor—to end his troubles and stop the grief in his heart with a bullet after she had rejected him.

"Poo-poo and nonsense," says the redoubtable "Ma". Friends say the spook tale has been revived by "Ma's" enemies, who, falling by every other method including an injunction suit just terminated in their disfavor, foolishly hope to keep her out of the executive mansion by conjuring up this legendary spirit tale which has been a part of Texas history for years.

GENEVA, Ill., Oct. 8.—A jury to pass upon the mental condition of Warren J. Lincoln was obtained today and introduction of testimony will begin tomorrow.

On the defense side there will be an attempt to show that the lawyer came out of a family wherein has been frequent insanity, and that he did not know what he did when he slew his wife, Lina, and her brother.

Byron Soup and sealed their heads side by side in a block of concrete. The prosecution will contend that Lincoln is not insane, but is in fact an extraordinary skillful and cold blooded plotter.

HEROES

A publisher of public school supplies has happily chosen from Longfellow an inspirational verse for the cover of a pupil's report book in wide usage. The quotation so appropriately employed is:

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

Hitching your wagon to a star means making a model of some great man or woman and then perseveringly striving to emulate your ideal. Knowing the great traits of great men we unconsciously acquire them for ourselves. For the child in school there is no stronger urge than the image of some great man or woman, living or dead.

Unfortunately, young people of the formative age sometimes choose their model unwisely. Bandits, pirate chiefs and other unscrupulous adventurers too often are the appointed heroes of the adolescent age. When these are not worshipped by youth for their crimes and atrocities but for their daring deeds and adventuresome spirit they are not to be discounted as valuable incentives to growing boys but their place should be taken by D'Artagnans, who have all the courage without the rascality of the others.

In a peace-loving country such as ours it is noteworthy that the world's military leaders occupy the topmost pedestals in the hero-worship of boyhood. A place in history as a warrior and soldier is a passport into the hearts of young America. It is not that George Washington was the "Father of his Country" and a great patriot but that he was a brave soldier that establishes him as a hero in the minds of American boys. The same holds true with great many adults who have not lost the romanticism of youth.

We can all benefit from following in the footsteps of a great man but let us choose our model with care.

THE BOYS ARE GONE

WE wondered what had happened over at the pool room, until last night one of the fellows remarked that all the boys had left for college. That's it. There's something lacking.

Some of the neighbors won't have quite such big light bills this month, maybe. The porch light won't be in use. And the porch swing might as well be carted off to the cellar. The boys are gone to college. Won't be a great deal doing now until Thanksgiving, when they're due home to make the first explanation of an overdrawn allowance.

The boys we always like especially to observe when they spend a few days back home from college are those who are in their freshmen year. Somehow they seem to change so doggone rapidly that we wonder just a little bit how they did use to look.

Now that the clothing stores try to sell college clothes to young dandies of 60, you can't tell so much by that. But the thing that marks a freshman back home is his pipe.

Sometimes it seems that colleges chiefly perform the function of teaching the young how to smoke. A boy may devour coffin nails until you'd think the things would burn him up. He may strut a little with a cigar. But it's when he comes back from college for the first time that he smokes a pipe. And such pipes! Bulldog stems, or long narrow things, and some horrible brand of tobacco that the college town fellows sell only to freshmen!

Well, now, truth to tell, those boys of our town have been away to college about a month, and we're gettin' a little homesick for them. Thanksgiving vacation can't come too soon.

Too much of man's yearning for higher things is merely a yearning for higher-priced things.

Many a girl who marries money discovers too late that her husband is wedded to it, also.

Among other things, these suggestive books suggest that the authors know their public.

In this glorious land of opportunity, any boy has a chance to grow up and become a labor official.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—They trapped one of Broadway's biggest spenders, wanted on a criminal charge, in a tiny walk-up apartment in Harlem the other day. He had been hiding away for a month while the shrewdest detectives sought him.

It is axiomatic among criminals that the best place in the world to hide is in New York. And it is. Yet nearly all criminals are captured because they overlook the first lesson in detective work: "Cherchez la femme."

This man had many Broadway loves. He spent $250,000 a year in the cabarets and cafes, but when cards turned against him, out of all those upon whom he had squandered fortunes, only one showed any degree of loyalty.

Detectives working on the "Look for the woman" theory found out the address of every woman to whom he had paid attention. A sleuth was detailed for each one of them and instructed never to let them out of sight.

One night one left her apartment heavily veiled. She took a taxi to a subway station, boarded an uptown express, doubled back downtown and took an elevated train. It was all done with a rush, but she never got out of his sight.

And he followed her to the tiny apartment where her fugitive sweetheart was hiding. He who had been trusted of the sweets of Broadway was alone—trembling from indignation in liquor. All his fair-weather friends had shunned him. His bankroll consisted of 55 cents.

This is the inevitable toll Broadway exacts from those who stem the whirlpool. And the laughing waters mock the lips of those who sink. Men have been able to play Broadway a night or so at intervals and survive but those who make Broadway a habit are invariably losers.

New York has several lost streets. Shibbole Alley is one. It is tucked away down town and seems unconscious of the world about it. It is shabby and run-down at heel. The cross-crossing of clothes-lines from house to house suggests ships aloft and there is enough canvas strung on them to send a barkentine spanking along. Many washwomen live in Shibbole Alley. There is the pungent odor of suds and the smell of cabbage cooking.

Then, too, there is Cherry Lane, where city dwellers have fled for a little of quiet. Away back it bloomed with cherry blossoms. It is the home of Edna St. Vincent Millay, the poet. Where there was once an old malt house there is now the Cherry Lane Playhouse with a smart little portecochere. Many sculptors live there, quite a few painters and a novelist or so. A few years ago a single cherry tree stood in Cherry Lane, but it was cut down. It was old, gnarled and a bit passe.

The other day I visited a man held in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue. He had been untrussed by booze and for three days was in the straight jacket. He had been a friend of other days—a clear-eyed, manly fellow with much ambition. "What made you take to hard drinking?" I asked. "Because I was a damn fool," he replied. "I don't know how it will impress others, but it struck me as being a sermon straight from the shoulder. Truth without frills."

The venerable orderlies about hospitals are odd characters. Each hospital has them. They, like the Cherry Lane trees, are old, gnarled and a bit passe and New York in its usual fashion passes them by. They are very comforting to the sick. Copyrighted 1924 by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

THE MASTER'S TOUCH
In the still air the music lies unheard;
In the rough marble beauty lies unseen;
To make the music and beauty, needs
The master's touch, the sculptor's chisel keen.

Great Master, touch us with Thy skillful hand;
Let not the music that is within us die!
Great Sculptor, hew and polish us;
nor let, hidden and lost, thy form within us lie!

Spare not the stroke! do with us as Thou wilt!
Let there be naught unfinished, broken, marred;
Complete thy purpose, that we may become Thy perfect image, thou our God and Lord!

—Ileratus Bonar.

And Always Spouting
"Driver, what's a geyser?" demanded a Yellowstone tourist.
"A guy, sir," replied the imperturbable stage driver, "is one of them fellows that's always wantin' to know what he'd oughta knowed before."

"Father," asked the only son, who said "sit" to his dad, "what's the unwritten law?"
"That," replied the old boy, who chewed tobacco before cats wore pajamas, "is the only kind you don't have to hire a lawyer to find out about."
